

Climate Disruption is a Moral Issue

Interfaith Climate Advocacy Training

When: August 26, 2015
9:30am to 4:00pm

*A day of preparation for people of all faiths
Learn how to speak with moral authority on the issue of climate change in Pennsylvania*

Join us to develop clear messages to bring directly to policymakers to support ambitious, legally-binding targets for carbon dioxide and methane emissions, energy efficiency and a just transition to renewable power.

Workshop Leaders:

Donald Brown, Professor of Sustainability Ethics and Law, Widener University

Matthew Stepp, Director of Policy, PennFuture

Justin Wright, Mediator and Negotiation trainer, Active Neutrals

Where: hosted by the Unitarian Church of Harrisburg, at its 1280 Clover Lane location

Register at <http://tinyurl.com/InterfaithClimateAdvocacyHbg>

People of faith possess the moral authority to be important and credible parties to the awakening of awareness and responsibility for climate change among elected leaders and non-elected policy makers.

We seek to prepare people of faith who are willing to pro-actively initiate meetings with policy makers, electoral candidates and other religious leaders to lift up the moral dimensions of this crisis and support effective and rapid transition plans for a just clean energy future in Pennsylvania and the nation.

Sponsored by PA Interfaith Power and Light and the Eco-Justice Working Group of Philadelphia Yearly Meeting. Contact nextgenconference@gmail.com

